

UUCC Community News

AUGUST 2024

Unitarian Universalist Community Church

Sunday Worship Service 10:00am

UUCC COVID UPDATE: The UUCC Board of Trustees has lifted Covid restrictions in the church. The congregation can determine their own level of risk and any need to continue to wear a mask in public settings. The only exception to this will be when we have in-church speakers who may request that congregants wear a mask during their service. We will notify you ahead of time if this occurs.

AUGUST SUNDAY SERVICES

Aug 4 Speaker: Leanne Mull
Title: The Little Red Hen and Other Life Lessons

I always thought that the Little Red Hen was about not wanting help, as an adult I realize that I was reading it all wrong! Hear about the realization that it is not only ok to ask for help, it is ok to admit that you need help!

Aug 11 Speaker: Patricia Hofmann
Title: The Quiet Activism of Grace

Our world is broken. But how can we as individuals even hope to repair it? Calling all conflict-averse crusaders, reluctant reformers and almost-hopeless healers. Don't give up - sign up! Activism may be simpler and more spiritual than you think...and more powerful than you imagine.

Aug 18 Speaker: Rev. Denise Tracy
Title: Burning with Life: Margaret Fuller
The Editor of the Transcendentalist newspaper The Dial, Fuller was considered the brightest, most beautiful woman of her day.

Aug 25 Speaker: Rev. Henrietta Byrd
Title: TBA

First Sunday Potluck August 4th after worship

At UUCC, the first Sunday of each month after worship service we share a potluck luncheon. Join us for this

UU Connect Forum

The Forum is on break for the summer and will return in September.

UUCC Men's Group

The UUCC Men's Group will have a potluck and summer social on Sunday, Aug. 11, starting about an hour after the Worship Service ends, at the home of Bruce Swiecicki. Men who have not been active with the group are welcome to join us. Men are asked to contact Allan Lindrup (at uusj@sbcglobal.net or, after Aug. 2, at 773-595-4921) in advance, for information on location and to coordinate what they might bring to the potluck.

The President's Column August 2024 by Laurene Lambertino-Urquiza

"The most controversial thing that I witnessed during this GA were the discussions concerning LGBTQ+ rights and the Jewish/Palestinian war." I wrote that sentence in my newsletter article last month relating my experiences of watching the 2024 GA through Zoom. I was unaware at the time that I had committed a faux pas but my dear friend, Bev Feldt, sent me a message alerting me that I had done so, and in the gentlest way she corrected me. And then, of course, I immediately realized my mistake. Yes, of course, it is not the Jewish/Palestinian war, it is the Israeli/Palestinian war. What was I thinking??

So, this month I wanted to take this opportunity to publicly apologize to Bev, my Jewish friends, and our congregation for my mistake. I asked Bev for her input as to how I could turn this into a learning opportunity, and she very graciously agreed. In fact, she wrote such an intelligent and remarkable explanation that I wanted to share it with you in its entirety. And so here it is...

Who Are Jews?

By Bev Feldt

Do all Jews support Israel? What do Jews believe? Are they a religious group, a race, a culture? These are some of the questions I've been asked as a member of the 2.4% of the American population who are Jewish.

Jewish identity is a complicated matter.

Some Jews identify as religious. They may belong to a synagogue in one of the four main branches of Judaism (Orthodox, Conservative, Reform, and Reconstructionist) and follow at least some of the 613 Torah commandments, including observing the Sabbath and the Jewish holidays, keeping kosher, giving charity (called tzedakah, meaning justice), and saying prayers with others and alone.

Religious Judaism is about these practices, not about beliefs. Concepts like "being saved" and "true belief" are Christian and have nothing to do with the Jewish religion. At Judaism's heart is a covenant with a singular God, but there are even observant Jews who say they are atheists.

Then there are secular Jews, who probably represent the majority of Jewish Americans. They identify as Jewish because of family ties, history, genetics, and cultural affinity. Jews see themselves as a people, not just a religious group. In this age of identity, many are rediscovering their roots, just like other Americans. For some, this means taking on religious practice; for others, enjoying Jewish literature, food, music, and other cultural values. All consider themselves Jewish, as I do.

Jews, like all groups of people, have a wide range of opinions about everything, including Israel. (A famous Yiddish saying translates as "Two Jews, three opinions.") Some feel that Israel is the true Jewish home and long to live there. Others feel no connection. And there are many positions in between.

"Jewish" is not a synonym for "Israeli"! Not all Jews support Israel, and even many of those who do also de-test the current Israeli administration and its policies, including the war in Gaza. It is NOT a "Jewish war," any more than Putin's invasion of Ukraine is a "Christian war." Should we attack students of Russian Orthodox faith in American universities because of Ukraine? American Jews, even those who support Israel, are no more responsible than any other Americans for the crisis in the Middle East.

And, yes, it matters that we make this distinction. Anti-semitism, which Jews have suffered from for two thousand years, is once again on the rise in the United States. The identification of Jews in general with the war crimes of a foreign country is bad thinking and even worse humanity.

Sadly, the mental structure for hating Jews is ingrained in all of Western culture; here in America, its stereotypes and libels are springing up once again. And please do not forget that generations of Jews have been scarred by the Holocaust, pogroms, and expulsions over centuries. This is serious business.

So no, it's not a "Jewish/Palestinian war." It's not an "Israeli/Muslim war," either.

We are witnessing the latest awful phase of the long sad mess in the Middle East, where it seems there should be room for everyone, somehow. It's hard to see things clearly from so far away. There are lots of wrongs on both sides, and lots of rights, too. People are suffering, and slogans won't help them.

Volunteer Recognitions

Thanks go out to Darlene Obejda, Joyce Semmler, Beryl Atchison, Barry Vronay and all who help with the coffee hour setup and cleanup.

Volunteer Opportunities!

There are many interesting tasks that need attention. Would you like to help?

Are you willing to commit to a Sunday or two each month? We need Ushers and Greeters, Zoom hosts and Sexton setup assistance. Please get involved! Contact Marilyn Ragland (mexmasrag@aol.com) for details on the Sexton team; Joyce Sligar (jsligar02@gmail.com) for Ushers and Greeters; and Jodi Libretti (jlibretti@sbcglobal.net) for the Zoom hosts.

We also need volunteers who are willing to help with set-up, cleanup and to be on-hand for rentals. We need hospitable people to encourage and enable success of our rentals to help fund the church. There are also lots of opportunities to help beautify and maintain our building and grounds! Please get involved. Adopt a spot or task that you will be responsible for.

Please contact with the office (708-481-5339 or churchadmin@uuccpf.org) for more information or to arrange access to the building and supplies.

WANTED: Exterior Painter for UUC

Do you know someone who does exterior painting? UUC needs someone to power wash our exterior and then apply fresh coats of paint. Please send your suggestions to the office 708-481-5339 or email churchadmin@uuccpf.org

Financial Update

Officially, the 2023-2024 fiscal year is over. Did you complete your pledge? If you need an update on your pledge status, just ask me!

For this new year, do you have a fundraising idea that you would like to implement? Please talk to me or others to get the ball rolling. Do you have handi-person talent that would save us the cost of hiring someone? Just let us know what you would be willing to take care of. We would love to hear suggestions on how to keep costs down and income up. Thank you for your contributions!

Memorial for Suzie Brown, September 11th at UUCC Service from 1:00-2:30pm

Suzie Brown, a longtime member of UUCC, passed away on June 14th in Eugene, Oregon. Suzie and her husband Jim raised their two children, Lynn and Bruce in Park Forest, IL. She was active in League of Women Voters, the 50th Anniversary Celebration of Park Forest, as well as participating in electoral campaigns, and recording oral histories of World War II veterans. Suzie had a 24-year career as an elementary school teacher, specializing in reading. Suzie was curious about the world and was an avid traveler. In 2008, Suzie was inducted into the Park Forest Hall of Fame. In 2015 after a diagnosis of Parkinson's disease, Suzie moved to Eugene Oregon to be close to her daughter. There will be a memorial service in honor of Suzie Brown at the Unitarian Universalist Community

Church (70 Sycamore, Park Forest, IL 60466) on Wednesday, September 11th. Please send donations to the Parkinson's Foundation, www.parkinson.org

~~~~~ RECOMMENDED READING ~~~~~

The number of women serving as ministers in North American Unitarian Universalist congregations grew from less than 1% to almost 50% between 1970 and 1990. In this important book Denise Tracy and Emmy Lou Belcher tell how this change came to be.

WomanSpirit

WomanSpirit is a collection of twenty essays by extraordinary Unitarian Universalists who illuminate their journey of empowerment and evolution. It's a tribute to their dream of a more inclusive, equitable future—and, in doing so, reshaped the very fabric of the denomination.

We believe that the way to promote multiracial unity in UU congregations, and elsewhere, is to LIVE the Seven Principles of Unitarian Universalism.

We are dismayed to see that our Association of congregations is being taken over by an ideology of neoracism. The articles in this book will help UUs understand this issue better.

GREEN SANCTUARY

BY JEFF GREEN – AUGUST 2024

When it comes to charging your car, are there going to be car chargers where you need them. A little story I am going to tell is when my brother and I brought my aunt's house back to life after she passed away. If you look down in the bottom right-hand corner, you will notice my hometown of Frankfort. My aunt's house is in the opposite side of the state in the northwest corner of Illinois. There is a little blue and red 355 right next to Frankfort on the map. I would take 355 north up to route 90 and head into Rockford in the middle of the state. According to google maps it's 113 miles to Rockford. There is a charger in the mall where I pull in and hook up my 2015 Tesla Model S to it. Use the bathroom at the grocery store, buy a small bag of popcorn and walk back to my car mostly charged up. Wait a little more and off to Elizabeth Illinois. Notice route 20 at the bottom of Rockford Illinois. That is my road to Elizabeth which is about 75 more miles to go. This small town of 695 was my home for the next 5 to 7 days before I headed back home to Frankfort. My brother who is a retired electrician, set up the charging chord from aunt's basement, through the basement door out the back porch window. There I tied in my charger to charge my car back up to 80% full.

As you can see, the fast chargers are few and far between in northwest Illinois. This is where I grew up during the 60s and 70s in my hometown of Stockton. Stockton is in between Rockford and Dubuque. There are many lower-level chargers that I have excluded from the map. For me it's like crossing the fast-charging desert. Having a gas car in the family works for me in that sometimes my Tesla runs too close to the limits for me to be comfortable driving there. But for Elizabeth and back, I had access to all my destination points.

US Public EV Chargers Set to Surpass Gas Stations in Eight Years

The US added about 700 new public fast-charging stations for electric cars in the second quarter, bringing the nationwide total to nearly 9,000.

When I started out in my first EV of 64-mile range, it was affordable, and I could learn as I go. If I needed longer range, I would trade over to gas. Now you can see the projection by Bloomberg chargers will surpass gas stations in 8 years. I'm quite sure this is due to the law passed by Biden in the inflation reduction act (IRA). When we get the rural areas filled with EV chargers, the EV transition will reach a new level of acceptance by the public.

Transitions take time. Looking ahead is quite wise in this case. In the Chicago suburbs, I can drive anywhere I want to go with complete confidence I can get a fast charge somewhere. Out in the rural areas with my wife in tow, as long as I have my destination chargers in place, (brother helps me with this), I'm good. Beyond that, I will stick to happy wife, happy life, and go with gas.

I want to thank everyone for letting me into your reading time and pleasure. Jeff Green

UUCC Men's Group

The UUCC Men's Group will have a pot luck and summer social on Sunday, Aug. 11, starting about an hour after the Worship Service ends, at the home of Bruce Swiecicki. Men who have not been active with the group are welcome to join us. Men are asked to contact Allan Lindrup (at uusj@sbcglobal.net or, after Aug. 2, at 773-595-4921) in advance, for information on location and to coordinate what they might bring to the pot luck.

The UUCC Men's Group will resume regular meetings in September or October.

UUCC CONNECTIONS SMALL GROUP MINISTRY

No Connections group in August.

The Connections will start up again on THURSDAY, September 12th at 1-2:30pm.

Beginning in OCTOBER we will meet on the 2ND WEDNESDAY of each month going forward.

We will meet in person at the church with an option to join via Zoom. All participants will receive an email with the topic information and the Zoom link ahead of each meeting.

The Connections conversations are offered as a way to get to know each other better, as we explore various topics. The topics we choose relate to our life experiences, questions, joys and challenges. Participants are free to share their thoughts and feelings, joys and struggles, as they choose. The group is there to listen, to share with and care about each other. The Connections group is NOT a therapy group. All are welcome! If you would like to join us, please contact the facilitator, Irene van der Hoek at: Cell 708/305-4913 or email tulip51girl@gmail.com

Family Friendly Celebrations at UCC

The First Harvest is here!

There are two words for this celebration: Lammass and Lughnasadh.

Lammass comes from Old English and basically means “loaf mass.”

Lughnasadh is an old Gaelic word that means “Lugh’s feast.”

No matter what you call it, it’s a day for celebration.

Our celebration takes place Friday night , August 2nd, at UCC in Park Forest. Here's a LINK to the online event, if you haven't already seen it. We'll gather for crafting corn dollies and socializing at 6 p.m. Ritual begins promptly at 7 p.m., and it's followed by a potluck meal. We hope to see you all there!

Here's a little music to enjoy for the holiday. Blessed be!

JOIN THE CELEBRATION

FRIDAY SEPT 13 AT 6PM

The apples are ripe, and sunlight is fleeting. The air carries a chill. Autumn woods call us to come see the show of the leaves before the trees shed them. Second harvest is here!

On Friday, September 13, Sylvan Sanctuary CUUPS will host a celebration of Mabon, the second harvest of the Wheel of the Year. Beginning at 6 p.m. and ending at 9 p.m., the event will feature a social hour and craft from 6 until 7, an outdoor ritual with fire at approximately 7 p.m. (weather permitting), and a potluck harvest feast to follow immediately after the ritual.

Those who plan to attend are asked to bring a savory or sweet dish to share (maybe something featuring apples, onions, pumpkin or other squash!) and a personal non-alcoholic beverage of their choice. Those with gardens are encouraged to bring something they've grown to share; be it flowers to display or something to eat.

Email mailto: sylvansanctuarycuups@gmail.com for additional information.

RAINBOW CAFE

Rainbow Cafe will meet on Friday, August 16th, 2024
Doors to the church open around 6:30 pm. The film starts around 7:00 pm. Soft drinks and snacks are served.

"Say Yes"

Synopsis:

"Say Yes" is a feature film about a woman dying of cancer who encourages her husband and twin brother to continue as a romantic couple after her death. The movie asks whether a straight guy can really fall in love with another man.

Rainbow Café is a social event that provides a welcoming and safe environment for single or partnered gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender adults, and their allies. Group is open to anyone regardless of their sexual orientation.

We meet every third Friday at 7PM to watch a LGBTQ film.

Join the discussion after the film.

Invite friends!

Optional - bring snacks to share.

Flowering Dogwood Martial Arts Way at UCC

Tuesday & Thursday at 7:00 PM AND Saturday at 9:00 AM

Details

Rob Dillon of Flowering Dogwood Martial Arts Way invites you to join in an exploration of Japanese swordsmanship, Japan's oldest surviving martial art. The Tenshin Shoden Katori Shinto Ryu (ryu is a "school") was founded in the 15th Century!

Discover how a martial practice may become an art of peace, of self-expression, social engagement, and a "way to go" towards whole-person fitness. No experience necessary.

About:

Robert W. Dillon, Jr., Ph.D. is Professor Emeritus and Founding Faculty, Department of Theatre and Dance, Holland School of Visual and Performing Arts, Southeast Missouri State University. In 2021 Rob moved to University Park, Illinois, to be closer to his adult children. There he founded Flowering Dogwood Martial Arts Way to continue his 50-year journey of martial arts study, scholarship, practice, and sharing-in-teaching.
